Threshing is a Serious Problem Now!

Breezelets

This is the shearing season for the sea lambs. Many that sheared off will never shear home again. England has not been leaving the U lambs alone.

A gilded youth, by the name Reardon, arrived in Calgary last week end, and to a Herald reporter disclosed the fact that he was spending at the rate of $1500 a week.

What a god-send to Calgary!

Evidently this gilded youth hasn't been Reardon on hard work and porridge.

Come to think of it, wouldn't mind swapping places with this silver-spooned-mouth youth for a few weeks.

It would certainly be a great Advance to the princely income derived from a country weekly newspaper.

No, that advance in Champagne doesn't refer to price.

Dr. Coldwater of New York plans a fight against mosquitoes.

To catch birds put salt on their tails. To kill mosquitoes put Coldwater on their tails.

It doesn't always pay to be too economical. The sad story comes from Excel of a man who took long steps to save shoe leather, but in doing it he split his pants, so he didn't save a cent.

The Russians have brought down the latest type of German aeroplane, the "two-tails."

Just what sort of salt they used isn't stated.

Two men living in Toronto, who refused to work offered to them by the civic labor bureau, have been jailed for vagrancy.

That is the proper kind of medicine to give these I.W.W.'s—put 'em somewhere where they will be made to work.

There seems to some of the same breed in Calgary that richly deserve the same treatment.

Kitchener says he will want another 3,000,000 men in the Spring. Zeppelin raids in Old "Lunnun" and other parts of England may be expected right along now to help in the recruiting campaign for this 3,000,000.

LETTER FROM THE FRONT

W. A. Currie Heard From

The following extracts are from a letter received by C. W. Rideout from W. A. Currie. The letter is dated from Belgium:

I suppose you remember G. S. Collins, who was sergeant major instructor at Youngstown military school two winters ago. He was awarded a D.C.M. and a commission a couple of weeks ago. He with Major Hesketh were responsible for saving and carrying out of danger a number of bombs which were stored in a farm house up near the firing line while these farm buildings were being shelled by the German artillery. Major Hesketh received the D.S.O. He is our squadron commander and is well liked by all the boys, who were glad to see him honored.

There is no news of any importance along this front. Of course, as you see by the papers, the artillery on both sides have been quite busy, there has been nothing in the line of infantry attacks to write about.

We attended divine service last Sunday, which was conducted by some Canon Scott, I believe from Canada. During the course of sermon, in which he referred to the part Canada was taking in this war, he caused a laugh when he spoke of the able young men who are staying behind, "writing letters like President Wilson."

In coming back from the trenches the other night, one of the boys in another squadron told me of a man by the name of Turke, as he told me, but I think it must have been your old neighbor, Joe Turpel. Anyhow, he wanted to be remembered to me. I have not been able to locate him yet, and if you know his address let me know and I will look him up.

Ed. Church and Corp. Goodbrand of Youngstown are still with us and both are well.

None of the boys who went to hospitals in England have rejoined yet.

Approximately 25,000, was the official answer in the house of commons to day to a request as to the total number of British prisoners of war in Germany.

Quite a serious prairie fire swept over Chinook, Alta., Monday afternoon, doing considerable damage to stacks of grain which had not been threshed and to several farm buildings. The territory covered by the fire was mostly fields of stubble and a great many grain stacks were saved by the fire guards that had fortunately been plowed around them.

Hallo, Harris, back from Paris? Yes—that is to say from France. Ah! And how is Mrs. Harree?

A RESIDENT R.N.W.M.P. FOR CHINOOK

Inspector King Talks It Over with the Village Council

A special meeting of the village council was held in M. J. Hewitt's office on Saturday evening last, to meet Inspector King of the R.N.W.M.P., to talk over the appointment of a permanent resident officer for Chinook. Some weeks ago the Village Secretary was instructed to write to Commissioner Currie, with a view to getting a permanent officer stationed here. It was in this connection that Inspector King desired to meet the Council, to obtain full particulars and report same to the Commissioner. While Inspector King was not in a position to promise anything in the matter, his only duty being to report upon the same, personally he seemed favorable to the proposition. In due course, the Commissioner will communicate with the Council upon the matter.

The Passenger Ship "Metagama"

Chased for Seven Hours by a German Submarine

Mrs. F. Lake's sister arrived in Chinook on Friday morning from England, after an exciting voyage across the Atlantic. Not until the passengers were safely landed at Quebec, where they aware that their vessel, "The Metagama," had been chased by a German submarine by some seven hours while sailing through the war zone. For several hours every passenger was compelled to wear a life belt, and the life boats were swung ready for immediate use, although the passengers were aware that the vessel was cutting through the water at a pretty good clip, they had no particular idea why.

Pat Burns says "there is big money in live stock and mixed farming," and Pat knows what he is talking about.

A cousin of the famous Jesse James has enlisted with the 82nd. There should be somethin' doin' when the 82nd get to the front.

Official announcement has just been made that the total number of British merchant vessels, exclusive of fishermen, sunk by submarines to October 14, was 183. The number of fishing vessels sunk was 175.

Chinook Breezes

Indian Summer.

Hallowe'en—the kiddie's night—draweth nigh.

Rabbits for Sale. Apply to Lloyd Peck, Chinook.

The fruit season is pretty well over. Grapes are on now.

School closes for the rest of the week, the teachers being at the convention.

Chinook was visited with one of those balmy chinook winds—strong, but warm.

The Musical Eckardts are to be here on Saturday night. Don't miss this treat.

There is a tremendous lot of freight being unloaded at Chinook these days.

An epidemic of typhoid fever seems prevalent in Hanna at the present time.

A continuous stream of grain is being brought to Chinook every day now.

Principal Marcy and Miss Irvine are attending the Teachers' Convention, being held at Hanna this week.

The Vote Was Unanimous

The vote on school consolidation which was held in Chinook on Tuesday, was unanimous, not one vote being cast against it.

Additions to the Parsonage

A new kitchen and bedroom are being built to the parsonage, this, with some other interior alterations, will make the house more convenient and warmer.

Mantle of White

Chinook got its first snow of the season during Monday night. Fortunately it was light, but enough to stop threshing for a couple of days.

It Will Be Some Glass

That will be some new drug store Chinook is fortunate in getting. When completed it will be the best on this line between Calgary and Saskatoon.

To Vote on School Consolidation

Buffalo Plains school district is to vote on school consolidation Friday next week, October 29th, between the hours of 1 and 2 p.m. Make the vote unanimous, same as Chinook.

The Patriotic Fund

The local committee for the local branch for the Patriotic Fund, met on Tuesday evening, when arrangements were completed for a systematic canvas for subscriptions towards this worthy object. Names and the amounts subscribed will be published each week in the Advance.

FARMER AND HIS HIRED HELP

A Case of Interest to Both

A case of some interest to farmers and their hired help was tried at the district court held at Hanna last week.

A farmer residing east of here appealed against the decision of an Oyen justice who had given judgment against him for $50.00 and costs. Bakken, the farmer, had engaged a man for the season at $30 per month. After the man had been working for about four months he demanded a settlement. Bakken refused to pay him in full as he feared the man would leave, whereupon the man took his case into Court at Oyen and the justice gave judgment for the amount of claim and costs.

His Honor Judge Winters allowed the appeal and quashed the conviction, on the ground that when a man hired for the season, he could not expect to obtain his wages in full until the season was completed.

FIRE!

Every Precaution Should Be Taken to Prevent Fires

It is reported that one or two fires have occurred recently south of Chinook through an old steam threshing outfit. It need scarcely be urged that every precaution should be taken against the possibility of starting a fire on the farm—or anywhere else, for that matter—at this time of the year, when there is so much grain out.

An insipid fire was started along the track just West of here last week end by a passing freight engine, but fortunately went out before much damage was done.

Word comes that a very disastrous fire occurred on a farm four or five miles from Oyen, on Monday, doing considerable damage.

Fire destroyed the barn and a large stack of hay belonging to James Smith, Garden Plains, last week. Several cows were lost in the blaze and it was with extreme difficulty that the horses were removed to a place of safety. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Well-deserved promotion has come to Dr. Naismith, who has been raised from the rank of major to that of colonel, and who has been selected to command the 89th battalion, which will be recruited in Calgary in about two months' time.

In the Milk Room

Value Advice for the Handling of Milk in a Sanitary Manner

Most ought to be satisfied so that none are disappointed in their promises. It is difficult to remove from wooden articles, even when freshly spilt. Wooden buckets are undesirable. Receptacles should be easily cleaned than tin cans. Galvanized iron, copper and zinc for table tops and a concrete floor in the milk room are commendable. Tubs, tubs and shallow pans of sanitizing water for washing with hot water the hose may be turned on the inside of the room, thus cooling it. Milk washing away dirt and foreign material simultaneously.

Sunlight is a destroyer of disease germs, but it is impracticable to have it in the room, and it should be kept in summer. The buckets, separators and cans should be set where the sun will reach them during the greater part of the day, preferably a sunny spot of which it is well to exclude flies from them. The milk room can be kept cooler if vines trail over it. If the interior is not to be a good place to have some coarse stuff like gunny sack material over the windows and keep it wet; the evaporating water absorbs a great deal of heat and adds materially in reducing the temperature inside.

Minard's Liniment Cures Dandruff,

Happiest Man is Honest

We have noticed the happiest man many a time. He works for his living and he gets a good one. One thing we notice is he is a man of his habits; does not smoke, does not drink, does not take or get into it. He saves his money and is getting ready to buy some property. He loves his home, plays with the children, reads books and keeps company with his wife. Because of his good habits he saves a little which will give him a chance to make an investment. If he is poor and low, so will the consequences be. He cannot be one thing and his experience another. A low lived man may grow rich, but he will not be for long. Anybody can tell what the matter with a man if he is with him a day; he will soon see if the other is a sinner, a sinner, an apostle or a hodge-podge. —Olive Street Journal.

Simple and Sure.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil is so simple in application that a child can learn the directions in a few moments. As a liniment, the only direction is to rub, and when used as a dressing to apply. The directions are so plain and unmistakable that they are readily understood by young or old.

An elderly woman who was extracting starch was endeavoring to get a starch out when the instructions, as a liniment, told her to rub, so she did. "Dry sideways, madam; try sideways."

The woman looked up breathlessly and said:

"Why, bless ye, I ain't got no sides, way!"—Louisville Herald.

German spies are said to be especially active at present in Holland, according to articles in the Amsterdam Telegraaf. The paper says that the spy network is so large that it is under the direct control of the German minister to the Netherlands. Its purpose being to get military and political information, to spread dissension and to watch the large colonies of Belgians now living in Holland in order to learn along what roads Belgians manage to escape back to their native land. Some of these spies, the paper asserts, are women.

Trust Kitchener

His Deeds for the Empire Have Won For Him the Confidence of Britons

In the final analysis the man in whom our soldiers put their trust is Lord Kitchener. His deeds for the Empire during the war deserve the world's admiration. He has won the confidence of Britons everywhere throughout the wide world. Kitchener's orders are the law and word is his red salvo, and his darts gone is his delivered "good." Lord Rosebery, a former British premier, argues convincingly when he says that we should have confidence in Kitchener. He says that he alone has the necessary information as to the duty of British subjects. "If we do not put our trust in the British Empire, then we are lost." We are representing, indeed, a lost cause." Lord Rosebery's remarks had special reference to conscription, but the war minister's opinion is appropriate. We can only trust in him because we have faith in the British government and Britain's war minister. Is that not so? We hear so much about the atrocities of the lesser personages in this awful struggle. The great minds of the Kitchener type are not thinking of honors or rewards, but of the welfare of the Empire. He is unbound and unchanged confidence in the British government and the great warriors, under whom we live. We have the confidence of the people, who will be wiser to the possible sacrifice of life.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Moving the Wheat

Transportation Charges on Grain Shipments of Interest to the Grower

Available information seems to indicate that the railways have made adequate provision for moving the wheat crop to tide water. When the western farmer is in receipt of the greatest part of his wheat, probably a good many of whom will be ready to exhibit flies from them. The milk room can be kept cooler if vines trail over it. If the interior is not to be a good place to have some coarse stuff like gunny sack material over the windows and keep it wet; the evaporating water absorbs a great deal of heat and adds materially in reducing the temperature inside.

Health Old Age

A Canadian's Wish

Saw His Friends Crucified and Wants to Have Vengeance

At the City Temple, London, Rev. R. J. Campbell spoke hopefully of the present situation in France as a result of a visit to the British lines. "I was greatly impressed by the quiet, sweet and undaunted spirit and delightful cheerfulness and optimism that prevailed among the English and Canadian troops. I found no pessimism with regard to England."

"I met one young Canadian who wished to return to the front because he had a debt to pay. This Canadian sergeant was one of the 100,000 Canadian sergeants crucified," I said to him, "Perhaps they were nauer after they were dead?" The Canadian replied, "Sir, you would not have thought so if you had seen their faces."

"Our soldiers are much better than the Germans, they are not so bad as first on account of the atrocities committed to, sometimes by a number of men together, and which were too terrible to repeat," added Mr. Campbell.

WAR OFFICE ORDERS MOVIES

Cinematograph Record to be Used For Historical Instruction

The War Office has made arrangements to obtain a cinematograph record of events of the war, both at the front and along the lines of communication in France. A number of skilled operators already have gone to the front to make records of the pictures.

The War Office desires to retain the complete set of pictures for historical record and instruction. A set will eventually be placed in the British Museum.

Women Aviators

Women aviators in France are anxious to go on active service. Miss Martha Richter, secretary of the Patriotic Union of Frenchwomen Aviators, has written to the War Office, asking that women aviators should be employed. "We are able," she writes, "to accomplish all the tasks entrusted to us, and our services are granted only to France or to any of the allied nations who employ us. When we flew for sport we risked our lives, and the sacrifices which we are offering to our country do not compare with those done by our men."

One day of Miller's Woman Power will clear the stomach and cure of worms, so that the child will not be troubled by their ravages. The powders are sweet to the taste and no child will object to taking them. They are non-injurious to their complexion and, while in some cases they may cause vomiting, that must not be taken as a sign that they are nauseating, but as an indication of their effectiveness.

Regulating Prices

Practically all the governments in Europe are since the war, put in force regulations concerning the prices of foodstuffs.

Some governments, while allowing the food and drink to fix its prices on the basis of issued decrees, limit to their whole territory concerning a few highly important articles. Thus Austria and Germany both prescribed the maximum price of certain articles that should be used in making bread. Later Austria and Germany fixed the wholesale price of cereals, and brought into the distribution of bread, flour, and flour products under strict control.

Turkey fixed prices for petroleum, sugar and flour. In Italy, salt, tobacco, and matches are government monopoly, and that is a picture of the central authority.

Denmark and Switzerland limited themselves to controlling the most important breadstuffs of each country.

Horse Flesh a Luxury

Horse flesh is becoming so dear in Vienna that it is almost more expensive to sell it than to buy it for the dressing purposes. At the last market horses for slaughter realized as much as $175, carriage horses ranged from $125 to $150, light draught horses from $125 to $150, and fat horses from $150 to $250. Following the introduction of women to the market, the price of horses has been reduced.

"Young wife came from a fine old family, didn't she?"

"No; she brought them with her."

This is to certify that I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family for years and consider it the best liniment on the market I have found it excellent for horse flesh.

BRITISH GRAND FLEET IS READY AND WAITING FOR THE ENEMY

GLIMPSE OF FLEET DOING ITS WATCHFUL WAITING

The Veil of Secrecy over the Naval Operations has been Somewhat Lifted and a Glimpse of the Fleet has been Obtained, Showing Thousands of Vessels Keeping the Seas Clear

For the first time the veil of secrecy over the British naval operations has been lifted with a correspondent reporting that the British Fleet has a great naval base. At an naval barracks he saw dry docks capable of docking the largest dreadnaughts, which had been built since the war began. The British were also independent showing where the German submarines had been sighted and on which the results of the attacks were classified as "certainly sunk," "possibly sunk," and "sunk." When hubris is racing for a long time at the same spot in smooth water, it is taken for granted that a submarine's career has been ended.

When an officer was asked, "How do you get them?" his answer was: "Sometimes by ramming, sometimes by fire, sometimes by explosive shells, in other ways we will not tell of."

All the officers aboard the battle ships and armored cruisers are anxious of those engaged in submarine hunts, which are regarded as great sport.

The admiral commanding at an important naval base told the correspondent that England had 2,200 trawlers, mine sweepers and other auxiliaries outside the regular service, and that these were being placed from the British Channel to leeward, and in keeping the North Sea clear, and that these reserved crews had been summoned for doing practice by some of the cruisers. "We keep at it all the time," an officer explained.

The tactics of the cruisers finished, they took their places in fleet formation among the immensities of ships gray shapes at anchor in precise order, such as the torpedo boat destroyers, which had come from "sweeping" the North Sea, as scouting is called.

In the tilt meeting into the sea even the Queen Elizabeth had faced the British battleship, but for her tonnage and gun power unlike compared with the inflexible, the flagships of the Falkland Islands battle, or the vessels of the North Sea, which which had come from "sweeping" the North Sea, as scouting is called.

Every deck was stripped for action, steam was up in every ship, and as

Team of Fine Horses Gone

Mr. R. Wheelan complains that a very valuable team of horses have very mysteriously disappeared from his pasture
sometime during Wednesday night or early on Thursday morning. Pasture being somewhat short he had drawn in a load of bundles and put them in the pasture, leaving three horses in the field, and before retiring on Wednesday night
he saw that the animals were there all right. On Thursday morning when he went to the pasture, one horse was there but his fine team had skidded leaving not a trace behind as to where they had gone. On examination, however, he discovered that the wire surrounding the pasture had been broken, the two ends were flattened out, as though the wire had been pounded purposely before breaking. Another suspicious circumstance was the fact that a bundle of oats was found on the other side of the fence, as though put there to entice the animals through the opening made in the fence. Even had the horses broken through the fence, it wasn't very probable that they would have wandered very far away as it was a team that Mr. Wheelan had raised them himself; and, besides,

there was any quantity of bundles all around on his neighbors' land. All the circumstances point to the fact that the horses have been stolen—by whom, that is the question? Mr. Wheelan has made a thorough search all around for some miles, but can find no trace of the missing animals, or even anyone who has seen anything of them. Mr.
Todd, a neighbor, said he thought he heard running horses about 10 o'clock on Wednesday night—that would be about half an hour after
Mr. Wheelan had retired. This

Horse Half a Yard High.

The streets of the old city of Venice were often extremely thick in mud, in spite of the great sewers which dated from the tenth century. Even now the thoroughfares between the Piazze and Rialto are sometimes sufficiently bad. We are writing of the time when the population was nearly 200,000,
which is not so bad as when Venetian trades were at its zenith. Well, to combat this mud the ladies took to high heeled shoes.

As the mud grew worse the heels
became taller and taller until at length
they were half a yard high and as difficult to control as a pair of stilts with one hand. In full dress, obliged to walk with a few steps, had to be supported on both sides. This was a task for the black pages or for the lovers who had at that time become a very conventional part of Venetian society.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF GRAND REVIEW

Photos by American Press Association.

1.—Major General Grenville M. Dodge. 2.—Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, U. S. N. retired, who will take a prominent part in the review. 3.—The grand review as it marched up Pennsylvania avenue in May, 1865, showing the victorious Union soldiers returning. 4.—Colonel John McElroy. 5.—E. IN the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the grand review, which will be one of the principal features of the forthcoming annual reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held in Washington Sept. 21 to Oct. 3, 40,000 marchers will pass in front of the president of the United States and his cabinet.

The grand review of the victorious veterans of the civil war which occurred in Washington immediately following the close of the great struggle was one of the most impressive events in the history of the world. It was the most impressive pageant which had ever occurred in warfare up to that time, and elaborate preparations have been made by the old soldiers to commemorate it at their meeting encampment.

The march of march will be from the capitol to the White House, along historic Pennsylvania avenue, which to-day presents a vastly different appearance from what it was a half century ago in grand review before President Johnson, his cabinet and the general staff of the army. It will rival any inaugural parade which the city has ever witnessed.

Greater portion of the marchers will be veterans of the blue, most of whom participated in the march fifty years ago, but it will also include those who belonged to the victorious army corps which did not take part in the concluding event of the civil war. Augmenting the veterans will be the Sons of Veterans and kindred organizations, as well as numerous in chief of the G. A. R. who are regarded by their comrades as a veritable living encyclopedias of the civil war, its men and events, has called a roll of the noted veterans of this corps who are expected to attend the big encampment. It is interesting to note in this connection that the two surviving corps commanders of the civil war, General George with M. Dodge of Council Bluffs, Ia., and Major General James H. Wilson of Wilmington, Del., are expected to be present. General Dodge commanded a corps of 100,000 men, who Wilson commanded all the cavalry between the Alleghany mountains and the Mississippi river. Details of his troups swept down through Alabama and Mississippi at the close of the war and captured Jefferson Davis.

At the head of the line of division leaders is Major General George Joseph Osterhaus, who has been living for many years at Mannheim, Germany. At the time of the encampment the A. R. he will get to Washington to attend the grand review. General Osterhaus, U. S. N. retired, and will greet comrades of fifty years ago. General Osterhaus stood among the splendid German officers who came to this country to serve the cause of the Union.

Another noted division commander who is expected to great interest is Major General David M. Gregg, who is auditor general of Pennsylvania. He commanded with great credit one of Sheridan's cavalry divisions.

General Gregg, who was born in 1818, who commanded a division of the Tenth Corps, distinguishing himself at Fort Meade, and who afterward was governor of Mississippi and later senator from that state, is living in retirement in Massachusetts and is expected to attend the encampment.

Other who are on the roster of prospective visitors are Admiral George Dewey, who was one of Admiral George's young officers, gaining distinction in the attack upon Pao Huidong, in China; General Nelson A. Miles, who entered the service as first Lieutenant and became colonel of the Sixty-first New York volunteers, and who, as a brigadier commanded delivery of a message to General Grant at Shiloh. He was a drummer boy in the fire of the garrison contest at Shiloh. He has always been a soldier and a man of his undaunted valor in the "hurts' nest" at Chickamauga. Generals Rosencrans and Thomas bestow upon him the title of "Dreadful Boy of Chickamauga," which he proudly wears to this day. Prior to the battle of Chickamauga he wore the cognomen "Johnny Shiloh." Another drummer boy of the civil war who will be present is Abram Springsteen, who was but ten years of age when he entered the service. He will have charge of a drum, rifle and bugle. He is the son of a son of a grandson of Union veterans in the grand review at the G. A. R. encampment.

Major General J. Warren Keeler of Ohio has promised to attend the encampment and is the only member of his rank in two wars and is still active. He commanded a brigade and division in the fighting Sixth corps in the civil war and was commander of a division in the Spanish-American war with Spain. General Keeler served several terms in congress and was one time speaker of the house of representatives. He declared recently that he is ready and willing to go to war again for Uncle Sam if his services are needed.

Submarines on Exhibit.

Submarines and swift running torpedo boat destroyers will be taken to Washington by the navy department to be exhibited during the fiftieth anniversary of the Grand Army of the Republic. Secretary Daniels is desirous that the old veterans shall be afforded an opportunity to see some of the implements of modern warfare in order to be better acquainted with which have been in use a half century ago the progress which has been made since the days when the Grand Army men and their brothers in the navy bore arms.

The fact is appreciated that because of its successful operation in European waters at the present time the submarine is the most talked of weapon of modern day warfare, yet few of the veterans of the civil war have ever seen one.

An effort is also being made to have one or more hydroplanes in the capital for exhibition purposes.

It is the desire of the department to have these the old Hartford, now at Charleston, S. C. restored to appearance she bore in the days of the civil war, when she was the flag-ship of Admiral Farragut.

The navy and the marine corps will also be represented by their enlisted personnel and probably some of the vessels of the Atlantic fleet will be available for the bluejackets and marines to be sent to Washington, as they have on similar occasions, by special steamer to remain during the day of the grand review.

It is the desire of the department to have the grand review as a part of the exercises of the veterans. The navy department contemplated doing this in the honor of the G. A. R. members and their friends who will be present in the grand review.

The navy and the marine corps will be represented by their enlisted personnel and probably some of the vessels of the Atlantic fleet will be available for the bluejackets and marines to be sent to Washington, as they have on similar occasions, by special steamer to remain during the day of the grand review.

It is the desire of the department to have the grand review as a part of the exercises of the veterans. The navy department contemplated doing this in the honor of the G. A. R. members and their friends who will be present in the grand review.

BOND ISSUES FOR TOWNS

Advocated at Convention

At the annual convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities, held at Bassano this week, Mayor Hardy of Lethbridge, speaking on the matter of bond issues for towns and municipalities, suggested that the provincial government borrow the sinking fund and pay 5 per cent. on this rather than look around elsewhere. The large outstanding tax debt, he said, was better than money in the bank, because it is secured by mortgage, it pays 6 cent. and positively will be paid before the holders will allow the property to go to sale.

How to Save Gas Bills.
A North Broad street man who has a passion for reading the out of town newspapers and also for answering many of the advertisements he finds in them tells this on himself:
"I have just received an advertisement in one of the New York papers stating that for $1 a method for saving gas bills would be sent.
In two days he received a printed slip by mail which read, 'Paste them
in a scrapbook.'

The Best Answer.
Mrs. Enpeck—Oh, you needn't talk!
You're not quite perfection yourself,
I would have known.

Enpeck—No, my dear, but when you're around I might be near perfection.

Mrs. Enpeck—Oh, Henry!

Fish Or Cut Bait!

The following poem in the Walt. Mason style, has been dedicated to those, who will be invited to subscribe to the Local Patriotic Fund, and is eloquent in its simplicity:

"We've had a twelve month
now of war, but the end's not in sight, and the challenge comes to every man to either pay or fight. It's not the time to hum and haw, or to air your hobby whims—it's up to you to see just now that the British Tommy wins. It's not the time to count on gain, or to fatten up your purse, while your brothers fight to rid the world from a war-mad ruler's curse. The man who stays at home just now has got to foot the bill, and it's just as well to do the thing with a cheery British will. The man who leaves his home, his kin, who leaves behind his all, to put the khaki color on and heed
his country's call—he's made a sacrifice that's real, and the man that stays at home has got to bear his burden here
without a gruch or groan.
It's not the day to count the cost or what the tax will be when the empire's fate hangs on the beam in this fight for Liberty. When strong men
march away to war, our fathers
and our sons, to free a blighted Belgium from the curse wrought by the Huns—we've got to play the part of men—it's not the time to shake—we've got the blood of Wellington,
of Nelson and of Drake.
The calls gone forth to every man, alike to small and great
—if you can't go with the fisherman you'll have to cut the bait."

"Fight or Pay."
